The problem is, most of these Rover dealers refuse to honour the warranty repair because the crappy quality of replacement parts mean that the same thing will happen again , the minute you try and start the mower again. The retailer often refuses to take any positive action either. Its a disaster of a product for a once reliable brand of mower.

I wasted half a day try to debug the problem, including reading the poorly-written engine manual. I went to Bunnings to try to buy a spark plug (in case it could be the reason) with its wrench, but there were no parts for Rover mowers (I ended up buying Victa one that was not compatible). Finally, I decided to take it to Rover mower service centre.
